Ahmedabad: Encouraging small and medium enterprises (SMEs) to list on its platform, the NSE has said that listing would help such companies raise capital for their growth and provide visibility.

“Listing on an exchange platform will help SMEs raise capital for their growth and provide several benefits like visibility, business growth, wealth creation and potentially enter into strategic partnerships,” Ravi Varanasi, Chief Business Development of NSE, said while addressing SMEs at a seminar at Vibrant Gujarat Summit on Friday.

He emphasised on importance of SMEs in the Indian economy and role of NSE in handholding and supporting growth of small and medium enterprises. He listed out eligibility criteria for SMEs to list on NSE 'Emerge' and spoke about the ease of access for these firms.
